The Advantage of Industry-leading Training and Development

The training and professional development available exclusively through the Investors Group Institute is among the very best in initial and ongoing instruction in the industry. The firm provides all new advisors with the education necessary to establish themselves in the industry; as well, Investors Group helps advisors begin the education necessary to become full-fledged financial planners. The firm strongly encourages advisors to obtain the Certified Financial Planner* designation, and advisors can qualify for credits that can be used to cover the costs of acquiring it.
